Doing Business for Good

The Bridge Works

The Bridge Works is a social enterprise that partners with businesses to help them with their commercial operations, whilst using a blended workforce to achieve social impact to create a more sustainable world.

Social enterprises exist in the middle of the spectrum between a charity and a business. Like a charity, existing for purpose, and like a business generating income from trade.

Making a positive impact

We have been providing opportunities for people with disability and disadvantage over the last 50+ years.

Our aim is to break the cycle of disadvantage, promote social and economic participation, whilst supporting community inclusion and diversity. Our team consists of over 120 employees working on a range of products for 40 companies.

Our four warehouses (3 in Dandenong, 1 in Thomastown) provide employment opportunities for people with a disability or who are experiencing disadvantage (for some it's their first job and a stepping stone for more career opportunities into the future).

Partnering with Soap Aid to save lives and the planet

The Bridge Works partnered with Soap Aid, a not-for-profit charity that recycles used and unused soap from hotels/motels in Australia to re-deploy newly created soap to disadvantaged communities in Australia and overseas. The Bridge Works now operates Soap Aid's recycling plant where staff are involved in the soap recycling process, including soap sorting, packing, logistics and more. The Bridge Works now delivers over 1,000 bars of recycled soap a week to provide essential hygiene to communities in need.

The combination of Soap Aid's life-saving soap recycling program and The Bridge Work's dedication to inclusivity and empowerment has the potential to make a significant impact on the community in Melbourne and around the world, promoting a more sustainable future.
